in this fresh new offering to the intro psychology course authors john cacioppo and laura freberg portray psychology as being an integrative science in two ways first they have written a text that reflects psychology s rightful place as a hub science that draws from and is cited by research in many other fields second this text presents psychology as a unified science that seeks a complete understanding of the human mind rather than as a loosely organized set of autonomous subspecialties as psychology moves rapidly toward maturity as an integrative multidisciplinary field the introductory course offers an opportunity to teach all of psychology in one place and at one time this text reflects that evolution and the authors excitement about it important notice media content referenced within the product description or the product text may not be available in the ebook version cognitive science is among the most fascinating intellectual achievements of the modern era the quest to understand the mind is an ancient one but modern science has offered new insights and techniques that have revolutionized this enquiry oxford university press now presents a masterly history of the field told by one of its most eminent practitioners psychology is the thematic heart of cognitive science which aims to understand human and animal minds but its core theoretical ideas are drawn from cybernetics and artificial intelligence and many cognitive scientists try to build functioning models of how the mind works in that sense margaret boden suggests its key insight is that mind is a very special machine because the mind has many different aspects the field is highly interdisciplinary it integrates psychology not only with cybernetics ai but also with neuroscience and clinical neurology with the philosophy of mind language and logic with linguistic work on grammar semantics and communication with anthropological studies of cultures and with biological and a life research on animal behaviour evolution and life itself each of these disciplines in its own way asks what the mind is what it does how it works how it develops and how it is even possible boden traces the key questions back to descartes s revolutionary writings and to the ideas of his followers and his radical critics through the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries her story shows how controversies in the development of experimental physiology neurophysiology psychology evolutionary biology embryology and logic are still relevant today then she guides the reader through the complex interlinked paths along which the study of mind developed in the twentieth century cognitive science covers all mental phenomena not just cognition knowledge but also emotion personality psychopathology social communication religion motor action and consciousness in each area boden introduces the key ideas and researchers and discusses those philosophical critics who see cognitive science as fundamentally misguided and she sketches the waves of resistance and acceptance on the part of the media and general public showing how these have affected the development of the field no one else could tell this story as boden can she has been a member of the cognitive science community since the late 1950s and has known many of its key figures personally her narrative is written in a lively swift moving style enriched by the personal touch of someone who knows the story at first hand her history looks forward as well as back besides asking how state of the art research compares with the hopes of the early pioneers she identifies the most promising current work mind as machine will be a rich resource for anyone working on the mind in any academic discipline who wants to know how our understanding of mental capacities has advanced over the years the mind of the master class tells of america s greatest historical tragedy it presents the slaveholders as men and women a great many of whom were intelligent honorable and pious it asks how people who were admirable in so many ways could have presided over a social system that proved itself an enormity and inflicted horrors on their slaves the south had formidable proslavery intellectuals who participated fully in transatlantic debates and boldly challenged an ascendant capitalist free labor society blending classical and christian traditions they forged a moral and political philosophy designed to sustain conservative principles in history political economy social theory and theology while translating them into political action even those who judge their way of life most harshly have much to learn from their probing moral and political reflections on their times and ours beginning with the virtues and failings of their own society and culture from jeff brantley founder of the mindfulness based stress reduction program at duke integrative medicine and author of calming your anxious mind comes calming your angry mind inside readers with anger management issues can find step by step mindfulness and compassion practices to help soothe anger fear and hostile emotions that can wreak havoc at home work and in relationships using mindfulness based stress reduction mbsr techniques reader will also learn important awareness skills so that they can stop overreacting improve communication with others and live a more fulfilling life this fourth book in the series continues the tradition of the popular earlier volumes by offering lively and entertaining information about some of contemporary psychology s most illustrious ancestors the 21 chapters many of them written by today s most visible and eminent authors concentrate on the lives and achievements of major psychologists from a variety of areas created for undergraduate and graduate courses in the history of psychology the variety of pioneers represented provide enough flexibility to also use it as a supplemental reader in other psychology courses each of the five volumes in this series contains different profiles thereby bringing more than 100 of the pioneers in psychology more vividly to life if the brain is the theatre consciousness is the play but who or what controls what we watch and how we watch it in theatre of the mind jay ingram whose past scientific investigations include the properties of honey on toast and the complexities of the barmaid s brain tackles one of the most controversial of subjects consciousness scientists have long tried to map our brains and understand how it is that we think and are self aware but what do we really know any discussion of the brain raises more questions than answers and ingram illuminates some of the most perplexing ones what happens in our minds when we re driving and we suddenly realize that we don t remember the last few miles of highway how do we remember images sounds and aromas from our past so vividly and why do we often recreate them so differently in our dreams ingram s latest book is a mind bending experience a cerebral stylish ride through the history philosophy and science of the brain and the search for the discovery of the self
