continuation of the reference work that originated with Robert Dodsley written and published each year which records and analyzes the year's major events, developments and trends in Great Britain and throughout the world. From the 1920s, volumes of the annual register took the essential shape in which they have continued ever since, opening with the history of Britain, then a section on foreign history covering each country or region in turn. Following these are the chronicle of events, brief retrospectives on the year's cultural and economic developments, a short selection of documents and obituaries of eminent persons who died in the year.

Helene was a strong-willed princess raised in France but closely connected with the court of Queen Victoria. After the premature end to a romance with Victoria's grandson, she married into the royal family of Italy. However, Helene began extended adventuresome trips into Africa where she became a big game hunter, explorer and travel writer, escaping from an unhappy marriage and the boredom of court life. Her travels took her around the world, but her sense of royal duty brought her back to nurse aboard a hospital ship in Libyan waters, then to an important role as head of the Italian Red Cross nurses during the First World War, while her husband headed Italy's Third Army and her two sons served in the artillery and the navy. Afterwards, her strong Italian nationalism made her an ally to Gabriele D'Annunzio and Benito Mussolini, but the disastrous Second World War saw her grandchildren interned in Austria and her older son die as a British prisoner of war. While she continued her charitable work in Naples when the country voted to become a republic in 1946, Helene was the only member of the royal family allowed to remain in Italy with her second secret husband.

This catalogue contains 10,000 books in twelve different languages, dated 1500-1800, from nine different defence institutions. Collections representing both army and navy by far the largest are the property of the Royal Netherlands Army Museum in Delft and the Royal Netherlands Military Academy in Breda. A great, if not substantial, part of these books is especially of international significance because of the contents, the intrinsic value or as historical objects.
