challenging the notion that francophone literature generally valorizes a traditional natural mode of being over a scientific modern one inter tech s proposes a new understanding of the relationship between france and its former colonies in africa and the caribbean by exploring how various postindependence authors depict technology as a mediator between them by providing the first comprehensive study of the representation of technology in relation to colonialism and postcolonialism in francophone literature roxanna curto shows the extent to which the authors promote modernization and social progress curto traces this trend in the wake of decolonization when a series of important francophone african and caribbean writers began to portray modern technology as a liberating democratizing force capable of erasing the hierarchies of the old colonial order and promoting economic development beginning with the founders of négritude aimé césaire and léopold sédar senghor and continuing with frantz fanon postindependence novelists such as ousmane sembène and contemporary writers such as Édouard glissant the author shows how these francophone writers champion the transfer of technology from the metropolis to the former colonies as a means of integrating their cultures into a global community thus paving the way for modernization and technological development realism is a pervasive term in discussions of contemporary developments in the cultural sphere by drawing on different theories of realism the authors explore how the term may be used as a helpful concept in order to analyse and evaluate current trends in cultural production and in turn how cultural production changes our understanding of what counts as realism the contributions deal with realism in narrative fiction drama and audiovisual media film television news within the context of national traditions examples drawn on in the case studies range from africa britain germany iceland russia turkey to the united states while the authors take their cues from media specific realisms focusing especially on narrative fiction the volume also highlights continuities and intersections between notions of realism in different genres and media with its original essays this collection invigorates the transdisciplinary engagement with forms and socio political functions of realism in contemporary culture extending edward said s study of the orientalist tradition in western scholarship bangura traces the origins of contemporary misunderstandings of african islam to the discourse of colonial literature western critics and writers he observes typically without access to islam except through the colonialist tradition have perpetuated unfounded politically motivated themes this 1976 book provides both a historical survey and a critical analysis of the literature in french from west and equatorial africa professor blair begins by discussing the social educational and political influences which led to the formation of the negritude movement and to a flowering of french african creative writing this historical approach is then complemented by a study of the different literary genres she traces the evolution of the first manifestations of literary activity in french by african writers the written folk tale fable and short story from the oral tradition of the indigenous culture and the eventual appearance of the novel with a legendary or historical theme the origins of french african drama are considered for the first time and the work of the minor poets analysed finally professor blair attempts a definition of the french african novel and studies examples from three major periods from the 1930s onwards recent research has revealed that the borrowings in yambo ouologuem s epochal novel le devoir de violence bound to violence are far more extensive than was previously thought accused of plagiarism ouologuem quit the parisian literary world and returned to a definitive silence in mali this book attempts to provide both a complete table of the borrowings in le devoir de violence and a new theory of their meaning miller dispels the myth that the borrowings are minor negligible or criminal he argues that they are artful thresholds openings to a profound reconsideration of african history ouologuem set up this system of borrowings as a way to invite readers down unexpected paths of meaning the borrowings are not mere stunts they are inseparable from ouologuem s radical revision of african history and his rejection of negritude the table of borrowings in part three of this book will serve as a resource for readers and scholars samba gadjigo presents a unique personal portrait and intellectual history of novelist and filmmaker ousmane sembène though sembène has persistently deflected attention away from his personality his life and his past gadjigo has had unprecedented access to the artist and his family this book is the first comprehensive biography of sembène and contributes a critical appraisal of his life and art in the context of the political and social influences on his work beginning with sembène s life in casamance senegal and ending with his militant career as a dockworker in marseilles gadjigo places sembène into the context of african colonial and postcolonial culture and charts his achievements in film and literature this landmark book reveals the inner workings of one of africa s most distinguished and controversial figures
